Water Line Inspections Mandated by State Law

The Carrollton Township Water Department will be sending out notices to township residents about the need to do an on-site visual inspection of your water supply line. The inspection process is mandated by the State of Michigan for the specific reason of identifying any water supply line that is not made from copper pipe. The State of Michigan is mandating (by law) a statewide inspection and inventory of all water service lines connected to a public water system. Municipalities that provide water service to their citizens have to comply with this law. Carrollton Township, as the law is currently written, will then develop a plan that works to eliminate any water supply lines that are from material other than copper. The time to complete an inspection will be dictated by where the water service line is located at the customer's location. However, in most cases, the inspection time will be no longer than looking at your supply line and leaving.

Please know that this is a new State Law and Carrollton Township is mandated to perform this inspection. We will work to schedule your inspection time and keep it as reasonably compatible with your schedules as we can. Water customers will start to receive notices to schedule their inspections in January/February 2019.
